

AsiaWorld-Expo Management Limited Occupational Health and Safety Policy Statement

AsiaWorld-Expo Management Limited (AWEM) as a company managing and operating AsiaWorld-Expo - a premier exhibition, conference and events venue in the world, is devoted to providing all employees and service partners with a healthy and safe working environment.

As a socially responsible company, AWEM does not sacrifice health and safety in any circumstances. All employees and service partners are required to fully comply with all applicable regulations and AWEM's health and safety requirements.

AWEM considers health and safety as an integral part of the business. Through the adoption of the Occupational Health and Safety (OH&S) Management System, AWEM is set to

- exercise all reasonable and practicable means to prevent accident and ill health
- determine, achieve and periodically review OH&S objectives and targets
- measure and monitor the OH&S performance through regular audit and review
- and in turn, strive for continual improvement

All managers and supervisors are responsible for upholding the OH&S Management System and managing health and safety in their area of responsibility.

All employees and service partners shall understand, implement and maintain the Policy and the OH&S Management System. They are responsible for taking their own health and safety responsibilities and those of others as well.

The Safety Section will provide advisory service and support for all managers and supervisors in the management of health and safety. Health and safety awareness will be promulgated through communication, consultation and training.

AWEM is committed to providing adequate resources for the smooth implementation of the Policy, which is to be reviewed yearly to ensure its adequacy and suitability for the management and operation of AsiaWorld-Expo.
